Review Services

Delivering consistent results and cost savings, through a unique combination of people, process and technology

On-Site Review Manager

An experienced review manager oversees each project on-site at the review facility, keeping you apprised of the team's progress. Responsible for implementing the review strategy specified by the client, the review manager also monitors the performance of reviewers and collaborates with the EED Client Services Group. By working closely with the EED teams involved in other phases of the review project, applying information gathered and lessons learned, the review manager ensures an efficient process, a high level of productivity and a consistent customer experience.

Experienced Review Team

Our reviewers can tackle any project, from first pass review to quality assurance work and privilege log compilations.

Critical to the success of any review project is our comprehensive screening/hiring process. We pride ourselves on assembling a review team whose credentials, experience and personality match the needs of our client.

All members of our pool of potential reviewers are law school graduates with verifiable credentials. Our process includes:

- Comprehensive application
- Extensive candidate interview
- Interviews of professional references
- Graduation and state bar admission verification
- Verification of no criminal convictions, grievances, pending suits or malpractice
- Additional screening as requested by the client

State-of-the-art Review Facility

Our review center is a state-of-the-art secure 6,000-square-foot facility. We provide dedicated connectivity for every project. We also provide an on-site review manager and a clean and comfortable work environment for reviewers. Access to the site and to customer data is protected by a three-tiered security system, enabling us to ensure the confidentiality of every client project.

Reduced Time and Expense

The close integration of specially trained EED service teams and industry-leading review technology offers unique value to our clients. To find out more about how your review project can benefit from our Review Services, contact us at info@eedinc.com.

eDiscovery. Discovered Here.™

EED is the pioneer of litigation hosting technology and electronic discovery services. For over a decade, we have reduced the cost and time required for eDiscovery in thousands of high risk cases. Our eDiscovery experts, who come from law firms, corporations, and the technology industry, understand the complexity and risk involved in evidence management for large matters. Our clients — 60% of the Fortune 500 and 45% of the NLJ 250 — value our unmatched expertise, thought leadership and results. Through integration of our proven methodology, people and tools, EED delivers results that meet and surpass our clients' expectations. EED is headquartered in Kirkland, WA.

EED DISCOVERY PARTNER REVIEW SYSTEM

A key advantage of our review services is our technological expertise. Legal staffing firms do not offer review systems, nor do they possess the deep technological knowledge required to optimize the review process. EED's Review Services incorporate Discovery Partner®, the industry's leading hosted review system, and our review teams are fully trained in using Discovery Partner to conduct more cost effective and accurate reviews. For additional information, see the Discovery Partner text below, and our Discovery Partner and CompareVue™ datasheets.

DISCOVERY PARTNER®

The first offering of its kind, Discovery Partner remains an industry leader among hosted review systems. Discovery Partner fuses proven methodology with case-specific configurability for the perfect review environment. The EED solution includes:

- Simple, intuitive user interface
- Secure access via the Internet, anytime and anywhere
- CompareVue™, featuring system-generated clustering and difference highlighting for faster, more accurate review
- A rich feature set to support the largest, most complex matters
- The best customer service in the industry

The Discovery Partner review solution complements our customer-focused document collection, restoration and processing services.
